

Raypec Life 24/7

Typing on the computer, Gabby Anderson works on her photo project in Photo Journalism. Anderson lost her camera but just found it. "I love typing on the computer they're so technical and stuff," said Gabby. (Bird's Eye)

Walking down the hallway during class, Jhesica Buasri tries to get where she needs to go. Buasri walks down the hallway to the vending machines. "I love passes because you get out of class," said Jhesica. (Framing)

Working at his desk in his office, Mr. Eidson types on his computer. Eidson was busy giving writeups for detentions. "I love being a principal," said Mr. Eidson. (Rule of thirds)

Checking out a book in the library, Demi Ross picks the book she really wants. Ross doesn't really like to read but Mrs. McCullough helps her find a great book. "I like being a librarian, but I hate being mean to students," said Mrs. McCullough. (Worms eye)

Taking a test in Mrs. Hutch's biology class, Jordan Little and others work very hard. The biology test was an open notes and open book test. The test was out of 34 points. (Worms eye)

Washing their hands in the bathroom, Kyle Wilson uses great hygiene. Wilson is listening to two students talk to the other. "I hate going to the bathroom at school, it's gross," Kyle says. (Framing)

Working out in gym class, the girls of the class do pushups along the wall. Coach Terri counts as the girls go through their everyday routine. "I love my students, they're like family," said Coach Terri. (Leading lines)